

The Egyptian Priesthood started and developed the Art of Perfumery .With their in-depth understanding of how flowers, gums, herbs, and woods essences can tap into our human emotions, and how odors play such an important role, affecting the way, both men and women feel, they played a major role in Egyptian and human History

For over 4000 years perfumes were a language and a form of nonverbal communication between individuals , where scents were the vocabulary and the carriers of messages .

With a good choice of the suitable perfume blend , taking into consideration the wearer's body chemistry, mood, feelings, life style, etc..., the wearer would exude pleasing sweet scents especially to his or her significant other.

A Perfume has as main purpose, to help the person wearing it to find his or her own Identity.

A different perfume should be worn in different times, places, events and occasions.

A perfume used for the work place, in day time or public events is not the same to be worn in a date or for the intimate moments.

Our perfumes are specific Blends combining only highest quality (1st Press- Pure, all Natural Essential Oils) - in complex proprietary formulas containing each up to sixty or seventy oils, mixed together in a way to convey a special message to people around about the identity and personality of the wearer.

PERFUMERY

Though the Perfume Blends are designed with the purpose of sweet smelling and fragrance yet, due to being pure natural essential oils, their Wonderful emotional, mental and physical effects will be a great additional benefit to the wearer.

Perfumes are Best worn neat (Applying the essence directly to the skin) , on body pulse points found on : the wrists , the crook of the elbows, the nape of the neck, the temples, behind the knees and under the breasts

It is important to apply on multiple points and not only one

You can control the intensity of your perfume by creating your own eau de cologne or mist (by adding the blends to water and grain alcohol-call for info about education in the art of perfumery) - or by adding the blends to your favorite massage oil, cream, lotion or gel.

You can easily add a couple of drops to the water in your bath tub

A good choice of the right perfume that reflects your personality and true identity (or what you purposefully want to show people around) would lift your mood and let you enjoy the occasion.
